Alanah Angus (Performer) Alanah is thrilled to be a part of this production of Arch After Hours. She has appeared in previous roles such as Evil Gabbi in She Kills Monsters and a performer in the Fear Cabaret. She would like to thank everyone in the RPI Players, her friends, and family for their endless support and encouragement. Enjoy the show!

Cyrus Bello (Performer) This is Cyrus' second show with the RPI Players (first if you don't count SNL) and he's very excited to do more in the future. As a rising senior his time may be limited, but that doesn't make him enjoy singing and acting any less. He hopes to make everyone in the audience laugh with the frankly cast array of characters he'll be portraying tonight. Thanks to the cast and crew for putting on such a wonderful show!

Bennett Marte*'s (Performer, Lighting Designer) lawyers have advised him to not condone any actions taken by his characters. He is simply a puppet for the voice of the people. He is just a little lighting jester.

Sébastien Brand (Performer) is a Senior Math/CS majors who's only been with the Players a few months, but has had a blast the entire time. He hopes you saw him as Lysander in SNL, but hopefully didn't see them scurrying onstage as a member of run crew (Fun Crew!) in The Scarlet Pimpernel. He hopes you all have a great time here and remember - what happens in Vegas, stays in Vegas.

Maddox McCormick* (Performer, Producer, Executive Writer, Assistant Director) is a sophomore Computer Systems and Engineering major, who started out with the players in spring of 2024. After spending the past year organizing and producing the show, he is ecstatic to bring the production of Arch After Hours! to the stage. Firstly, Maddox would like to thank the writers and editors for helping to bring his ideas to life. He would like to thank the RPI Players ECOMM for supporting him and giving him this space to be creative. He would also like to thank the cast, crew, and production for helping to put on this show, as without members assuming multiple roles, the show would not have gone on. Finally, Maddox would like to thank his family and friends for their continued support in him, being a fantastic group who continue to accept and embrace him.

Joaquín Molinari* (Director) is a Chemistry Master's student at RPI who is excited to direct his first proper show, and couldn't be happier with the material he had to work with, courtesy of the fantastic Arch After Hours writing team. Previously he has directed 2024's Pride Cabaret, been the assistant director for 2024's Evening of Performance: The Brothers Grimm Spectaculathon, and produced 2025's Evening of Performance: The Comedy of Errors and 2025's Pride Cabaret. In his 5 years with the RPI Players, he has also performed in the roles of Citizen Chauvelin in The Scarlet Pimpernel and Sheridan Whiteside in The Man Who Came To Dinner. He currently serves as the club's Artistic Director and Scenic Department Chair. He hopes you all enjoy the show.

Danielle Za-Cara Pettway* (Stage Manager) is an architecture student here at RPI going into her fifth and final year. She has been in many of RPI previous productions such as Heathers in 2023, The Lighting Thief in 2024, and The Scarlet Pimpernel in 2025. Though she mainly does performing, this is her first time as a part of central production. She is excited to finally see what's behind the scenes in a show and what better show than the first student written and ran show of the Players! She is so happy she got to see this project go from the writing table to the stage and she hopes you enjoy the show. Keep a look out the RPI Players performance of "Murder in the Orient Express" in the Fall Semester!

Alex Wallach* (Assistant Stage Manager, Run Crew) was not originally supposed to be here, but he is excited to be working backstage again for the first time since his very first show, thanks to a staffing shortage! He is a rising senior mechanical engineer who just did his first professional lighting design gig in EMPAC last week. He is really proud of this show's lighting team and what they've been able to do with minimal guidance, especially after spending the last 2 years cleaning up the department (literally). Alex hopes you enjoy the show, and would like to remind the actors to NOT TOUCH PROPS THAT AREN'T THEIRS and be QUIET BACKSTAGE!!!

Ocean Elliston (Sound Designer, Audio Engineer) was happy to help the RPI Players in their production of Arch After Hours! for his debut exhibition as the sound designer and engineer.

Mariana Gavilan* (Master Electrician, Writer) is excited for her first show as master electrician after invading the lighting department and stealing its brain cell. She hopes you enjoy the lights! Please direct any and all lighting complaints towards Bennett Marte (Don't shoot the operator, she just presses the buttons he made the lighting ideas >:D)"
