

General Lighting Notes

- Red when anyone gets hurt or dies. For duels where multiple people die, get redder with each death.
 - Probably use the 3rd AP or torma for this?
- Set up a general wash with fronts, tops, high sides, and cycs.
- Add additional fixtures to blast the arena with light from several angles (make it look like a sporting arena?)
- We're going to make fun of how sports people light their events!
- Probably use a colder white temperature gel with all of the arena lights.
- During the arrest, snap out the arena lights to make it look like the cops are shutting down the place.
- Need to create some sort of police car light effect for the cyc
 - I've tried this before and can't get it to look good.
 - How the hell do you do this with Eos?
- Toy with the idea of having a followspot that follows the duelers into the arena.
- Two options: general wash for introductory Duelmaster speeches or dark stage with special.
- Are we really saying the name of the Scottish play? If so, we should probably stock up on extra lamps and gels...
- During the duels, have only the arena lit and have the movers move in some sort of path.
- When someone falls, freeze the movers and add red.
- When the Duelmaster yells "Duel!", snap out everything except for the arena lights and movers.
